

Text: The Old Lighthouse

The old lighthouse stood on a rocky point, its white paint weathered by years of relentless sea spray. For decades, its lamp had guided countless ships safely through treacherous waters, at the darkest nights. Now, automated technology beacon of hope in had rendered it obsolete. The lamp was extinguished, and the lighthouse keeper, old Silas, was gone. The seabirds still circled the tower, their cries echoing the solitude of the place. Some said Silas' ghost wandering the parapet on stormy nights they could see nights, still tending to his light, a silent guardian of the coast. Others just remembered the stories he told, tales of daring rescues and the endless mysteries of the sea. The lighthouse, though remained a powerful symbol of resilience and the enduring silent, remained a connection between humanity and the ocean.

:Questions

1. What is the primary image or feeling evoked by the description of the lighthouse as "weathered by years of relentless sea spray"?

2. What was the lighthouse's main function or purpose during its active years?

3. Why is the lighthouse now obsolete?

4. Who was Silas, and what was his role related to the lighthouse?

5. What do the seabirds circling the tower symbolize or represent of the text in the context?

6. What are the two contrasting viewpoints or beliefs about Silas after his departure?

7. What kind of stories did Silas tell, and what does this suggest about his character and experiences?

8. What does the text say remains the only evidence that the lighthouse exists?

In addition to guiding ships, what larger abstract concept or idea
?did the lighthouse represent during its active years

What is the significance of the lighthouse remaining "a powerful nduring connection between symbol of resilience and the e
?humanity and the ocean," even after it is no longer in use

:Answer

What is the primary image or feeling evoked by the description
?"of the lighthouse as "weathered by years of relentless sea spray hsrah fo stceffe eht dna ,ecnarudne ,ega fo esnes A • environmental forces. It evokes a feeling of something that has .withstood the test of time

What was the lighthouse's main function or purpose during its
?active years
.through treacherous waters ylef as spihs ediug oT •

?Why is the lighthouse now obsolete .ᳵ
.yrassecennu ti deredner sah ygonlhcet detamotuA •

?Who was Silas, and what was his role related to the lighthouse .ᳶ
.repeek esuohtgil dlo eht saw saliS •

s circling the tower symbolize or represent What do the seabird .᳷
?in the context of the text
.esuohthgil eht gnidnuorru erutan dna efil deunitnoc ,edutiloS •

What are the two contrasting viewpoints or beliefs about Silas .᳸
?after his departure
ymrots no thgil eht ot gnidnet tsohg sih ees yeht eveileb emoS •
.nights, while others simply remember the stories he told

What kind of stories did Silas tell, and what does this suggest .᳹
?about his character and experiences
ues and the endless mysteries of the sea. cser gnirad fo selaT •
This suggests that he was brave, knowledgeable about the sea,
.and had a sense of adventure

What does the text say remains the only evidence that the .ᳺ
?lighthouse exists
.The seabirds *

iding ships, what larger abstract concept or idea In addition to gu .⁹
?did the lighthouse represent during its active years
.sthgin tsekrad eht ni epoh fo nocaeb A •

What is the significance of the lighthouse remaining "a powerful .\` • connection between symbol of resilience and the enduring
?humanity and the ocean," even after it is no longer in use eht ,decnavda sah ygolohcet hguoht neve taht stseggus tl • values of perseverance, guidance, and the relationship between enduring. The humans and the natural world remain important and .lighthouse is a reminder of these enduring qualities